

You Can't See "Acid-Mouth"

That's the worst of tooth decay. You aren't sure it's happening till it has happened. But you can be sure of this—will overcome the chief cause of tooth decay—"acid-mouth."

Pebeco Tooth Paste

And you can be pretty sure that you have "acid-mouth"—because authorities say that 95 out of 100 people suffer from this almost universal result of modern eating and drinking.

But—fortunately—you have Pebeco to help save your teeth from decay and to clean, polish and whiten the teeth in a pleasing and refreshing manner.

BOY ROBBERS FLED WITHOUT CASH AFTER SHOOTING GROCER

Man in Hospital Counts Himself Lucky in Not Losing $200 He Had on Hand.

Although Henry Pfeffer, a grocer of No. 61 Henry street, Long Island City, is in St. John's Hospital to-day with a bullet in his right breast, he counts himself still a lucky man, for the five young gangsters, to one of whom he owes his injury, did not take a cent of the $200 they held him up to obtain.

The attempted robbery and shooting occurred in the grocery store last night while Pfeffer was counting up his cash.

Five youths, ranging in age from eighteen to twenty years, suddenly entered, and one of them said: "Give me five cents' worth of soda crackers."

Pfeffer started for the cracker box, when suddenly one of the youths pointed a revolver at him and ordered him to throw up his hands.

The youth with the weapon appeared to be nervous. It was discharged and Pfeffer fell with a bullet in his right breast.

The police sent Pfeffer to St. John's Hospital, where Dr. Gheehan said his injury was not mortal. Pfeffer gave the police a description of the youths and a general alarm was sent out for them.

The fact that they did not stop to take Pfeffer's money after the shooting leads the police to believe that the five were not experienced robbers.

CYRIL MAUDE CAN'T THINK BROTHER'S WIFE ELOPED

Doesn't Believe She Was in Nice, From Where Report Said She Fled With Basso.

A cablegram from Nice stating that the wife of Ralph Maude, a brother of Cyril Maude, the English actor, had disappeared from there and was supposed to be in the company of Enzo Basso, an Italian basso, was shown to Cyril Maude at the Hotel Vanderbilt to-day. Mr. Maude was astounded at the news.

"I refuse to believe it," he said, "for several reasons. In the first place, I do not believe my brother and his wife are in Nice or have been there recently."

"My daughter had a letter from Ralph's wife only three weeks ago. She was in London then, with her husband and their five-year-old son Henri. Mrs. Maude has a fine voice and has been studying for grand opera for some time under the direction of Signor Basso."

"At the time of the receipt of the letter Signor Basso was also in London, where he has a studio. My brother Ralph, who is a journalist, is devoted to his wife and I refuse to believe she is not devoted to him."

"This cablegram states that Signor Basso and my brother's wife are probably on their way to New York because Basso has a contract to sing here. I feel safe in saying that he has no contract to sing here. And they would not come to New York if it were possible they had eloped, knowing I am here."

"My brother and his wife formerly lived in Nice. I attribute this statement about his wife to malicious gossip in that city."

HE WILL MARRY FIRE DEPARTMENT'S HONORARY SURGEON.

Miss EMILIE JUNE WALKER

Dr. Harry Mortimer Archer, forty-eight years, of No. 72 West Eighty-second street, and Miss Emilie June Walker, daughter of Charles Travers Walker of No. 238 Carroll street, Brooklyn, have taken out a marriage license.

Dr. Archer is an honorary surgeon of the Fire Department. This is his second marriage. His first wife died suddenly in the lobby of the New Theatre about four years ago.

The wedding ceremony will be performed on the night of Feb. 17 by the Rev. Arthur Judge in St. Matthew's Church, Eighty-fourth street and Central Park West. Former Fire Chief Edward Croker, Assistant District Attorney Charles S. Hostwick, H. J. Crowley, Joseph J. O'Reilly and Harold R. Miller will act as ushers.

STRIKE EARLY MISHAP ON TRIP TO WEST

Two Boys Pelted With Snowballs Show Revolvers, Then Are Seized by Policeman.

The snow that covers the city is one of the reasons why James Martin, eighteen, of No. 64 West One Hundred and Tenth street, and Joseph Powell, sixteen, of No. 21 Manhattan avenue were in the West Side Court to-day. Both were held in $200 bail. Powell was bailed. Martin was sent to the Tombs charged with carrying weapons.

Yesterday, feeling that fame and fortune awaited them in the Wild West, they resigned their positions, collected their money, and went to Hoboken, where they bought revolvers, holsters, belts and cartridges. Last night they started. Passing through Forty-third street, they had nearly reached Eleventh avenue when they were attacked with snowballs by a crowd of boys. Powell drew his revolver but the boys continued to pelt them, so Powell and his companion ran, pursued by the boys, who substituted stones for snowballs.

At Forty-second street and Twelfth avenue the two youths were rescued by Policeman Jonathan, who took them to the station house.

LAWYER STORMS IN COURT.

Makes Quite a Rumpus and Magistrate Puts Him Under Arrest.

The proceedings in the Yorkville Police Court were interrupted for almost an hour to-day while Emanuel Jacobus, a lawyer, with offices at No. 132 Nassau street, raged and fought with the court attendants. The rumpus started when Jacobus came into the court with Joseph Stein, a client of his, who had been summoned by the Fire Department to explain why he had not installed fire sprinklers in his paper warehouse at No. 437 East Seventy-seventh street. Court Attendant MacDonald told Jacobus to give him the summons, but the lawyer refused to do so. Then he refused to sit down. There followed a long and noisy argument and finally the lawyer was ordered arrested by Magistrate Corrigan.
